WOMEN'S HISTORY MONTH

“EACH TIME A WOMAN STANDS UP FOR HERSELF, SHE STANDS UP FOR ALL WOMEN.”

—MAYA ANGELOU

Women's History Month was introduced to address the long-standing omission of women's contributions from traditional historical narratives. It grew out of a local Women's History Week started by educators in California in 1978, inspired by the lack of women represented in school curricula. Gaining national recognition in the United States in the 1980s, it was officially expanded to a month-long observance in March to coincide with International Women's Day. Since then, Women's History Month has expanded beyond the United States to become a globally recognized awareness month.
